

Zero Worries on Data

Educational institutes worldwide are embracing Digital Education as the safest way to educate students in an interactive and engaging manner. Digital Education uses a mix of digital tools and technologies to blend technology, instruction, and digital content into teaching practices to educate students while ensuring their interest and focus are retained.

‘Zero Worries on Data’ from Dialog Enterprise is an innovative solution which allows educational institutes to grant students access to any online resources or Learning Management System (LMS) without incurring any Data cost to the student. This valuable aspect of eliminating the student's burden of high Data cost encourages them to pursue and be attentive to studies from anywhere.
